

MARJORIE HILEY

Marjorie Hiley is the Executive Director of Don Valley Community Legal Services and leads the immigration and refugee practice. Prior to this role, Marjorie spent 35 years as the Executive Director of Flemingdon Community Legal Services where she specialized in immigration and refugee law. After completing her LLB at Osgoode Hall Law School, she headed the Legal Department of the Children's Aid Society where she trained child welfare workers and foster parents while conducting child welfare trials. Beyond her extensive legal career, Marjorie serves on the Board of the Don Mills Foundation and Better Living organization and is an active member with the Eglinton St. George's United Church, Zonta International, a women's service group, and the Working Group on Refugee Women's Issues, among many others.
